LORD ROSEBERY WRITES A LETTER ON DIVISIONS IN THE LIBERAL PARTY.

SEES NO FAVORABLE ISSUE

It is a Source of Sorrow to Him to Find a Weak Government Confronted by a Weaker Opposition—Believes That the Present Crisis May Have Unlimited Effect Upon Great Britain's Future.

London, July 17.—Lord Rosebery has issued a manifesto on the divisions in the Liberal party. It is contained in a letter to the City Liberal club, which had invited him to deliver an address.

He disclaims any desire to re-enter politics, but speaks out "under the remarkable charter" agreed upon by Liberal members of the house of commons of "hearty and undisputed allegiance to the leader and complete liberty of action to dissent with regard to one vital question before the country."

The Liberal party can become a power, he says, when it shall have made up its mind on the "imperial questions which are at this moment embodied in the war." After asserting that "the whole empire has rallied to the war," he discussed the attitude of the Liberal party.

"What is the attitude of the Liberal party?" he asks. "Neutrality, and an open mind? Now I contend that this is an impossible attitude and spells impotence. No party can exist on such conditions." He declares that the differences would not cease to operate when the war is over, "because statesmen, who disassociate themselves from a nation in a great national question, such as the war in which we all strive to suffer together, disassociate themselves for much longer than they think."

He considers that the severance is a "sincere fundamental and incurable Antagonism of Principle with regard to the empire at large and our consequent policy." As there is this "honest and irreconcilable difference of opinion on questions of the first importance," he can see no favorable issue.

Lord Rosebery concludes with a gloomy touch. "It is a matter of sorrow and anxiety," he says, "to see a weak government confronted by a weaker opposition at a juncture of foreign hostility and international competition which needs all the vigilance, power and ability at our command."

He believes that Great Britain is at a crisis which may have unlimited effects upon its future.

Lord Rosebery's pronouncement is regarded by The Daily Telegraph as severing his last connection with a hopeless opposition. The Daily Chronicle says:

"It is destined to have a profound effect upon the contemplated formation of a national Liberal party, numerous materials for which are scattered within each."

The Daily Chronicle meaningfully asks if Lord Rosebery will take his part towards realizing the desired end.

The Daily News regards Lord Rosebery as "standing outside the vineyard and throwing stones at the workers." Going on to analyze the letter, the paper defines it as a "deliberate and mischievous effort to prevent reunion."

The Conservative papers generally commend the letter.

RECEIVED AT WASHINGTON

Porto Rican Free Trade Resolution in Secretary Hay's Possession.

Washington, July 17.—Secretary Hay has received by mail an official report from Governor Allen of Porto Rico, enclosing the resolution adopted by the Porto Rican legislature providing for free trade between the United States and Porto Rico after July 25, next. Promptly upon Mr. Allen's arrival in this country a proclamation will be framed to give effect to this resolution. It is expected that the document will be purely formal in terms, simply reciting the proper section of the Foraker act and declaring free trade.

Two Soldiers Recaptured.

Manila, July 17.—Lieutenant Patrick A. Connolly of the Twenty-first regiment, who was sent with 20 men to recapture the Americans taken prisoners at Mindoro, has made his first landing on the island. He attacked the town of Calapan and a score of natives were killed and the town was partly burned before the place was surrendered. Private Kidder of the Thirty-eighth regiment and Private Blake of the Twentieth were recaptured.

Indian Territory Crops Saved.

Muskogee, I. T., July 17.—A severe hail storm three miles north of Muskogee killed some stock and completely destroyed crops for a considerable distance over a stretch of a mile wide. Heavy rain fell over the Creek and Cherokee Nations, generally saving crops.

Bombay Cavalry Will Remain.
Tien Tsin, July 17.—The orders for the departure of the Bombay cavalry have been countermanded and the strength of the British troops remaining here will be increased by 1,000 men.
AGAINST PICKETING ONLY.

Judge Will Not Enjoin Either Violence or Boycotting.

Cincinnati, July 17.—Judge C. D. Clark of the United States district court, during the hearing of the motion to dissolve the temporary injunction issued against the striking machinists, indicated very plainly to counsel for the defense what his opinion would be on two points involved. He said that for picketing an injunction would be granted, but that acts of violence and even boycotting were not to be met by injunction. He described picketing as intercepting men while going to and from the factory, anywhere—even miles away—by one man or by more than one, an interference with ingress and egress of workmen. But violence, he added, is not to be remedied by injunction in this court. It is found to belong to the criminal jurisdiction of the state courts. He announced that the decision of the case would rest on the point whether or not it had been shown there had been picketing.

FUNDS ARE SHORT.

Machinists' Strike in Milwaukee Virtually at an End.

Milwaukee, July 17.—Unable to hold out any longer on account of the scarcity of funds, 50 machinists voluntarily have gone back to work at the works of the Allis-Chalmers company, thus virtually putting an end to the strike in Milwaukee. This was practically the first break of any importance in the ranks of the machinists, but it is admitted it is almost hopeless to hold the men out in Milwaukee any longer. A general return to work of the men in every shop in the city is expected. The Allis company expects every one of its former employees will be back soon and all will be reinstated in their old places as far as possible. The end of the strike here is regarded with satisfaction by the employers as a body, and there is no disposition to deal harshly with the men. It is said the shops which have been crippled for so long will be running full handed by the first of next week.

FATAL COINCIDENTS.

Elevator Boys at New York and Chicago Instantly Killed.

New York, July 17.—Robert Moore, 19 years of age, was killed while at work on an elevator of the American Can company, at Whitestock, L. I. The elevator was a new invention and was opened at the factory for the first time during the day. After running a few times, it refused to work, and in trying to repair the break the boy fell to the bottom of the shaft and was killed instantly. The American Can company has a factory in Chicago and an elevator of the same kind was placed in the factory there and operated for the first time during the day. Almost at the same time that Moore met his death word was received from the factory in Chicago that the elevator boy was killed there.

PENSION LIST GROWING.

Increased Last Year to the Extent of 4,305 Names.

Washington, July 17.—Reports have been received by Commissioner Evans of the pension bureau from all the pension agents of the country showing the entire pensions business transacted for the fiscal year ended June 30, last. The showing thus made, compared with 1900, is as follows: The appropriations for the two years was the same, $144,000,000 for each year. The expenditure for 1901 was $138,531,494, an excess over 1900 of $169,254.

During the year the pension roll was increased to the extent of 4,305 names, making a total of 997,834. The deaths among pensioners numbered 28,082 in 1901, or 257 more than in 1900.

Run Over by Fire Engine.

St. Paul, July 17.—August Chemidlin, 74 years old, was run over by Engine No. 4 of the local fire department at Seventh and Wacouta streets. The wheels passed over his right leg and pelvis and inflicted injuries from which he died 20 minutes later. The horses attached to the engine became unmanageable and ran on to the sidewalk, causing the fatal accident.

Count Tolstoi Seriously Ill.

London, July 17.—M. Tchlerkoff, who is Count Tolstoi's representative in Great Britain, has received a telegram asserting that the famous Russian is dangerously ill with fever accompanied with great weakness and that his state is very serious. The dispatch was received from Tula, European Russia, where Count Tolstoi is understood to be.

SITUATION IS SERIOUS

PROSPECT FOR A CONCLUSION OF NEGOTIATIONS AT PEACE KING GLOOMY.

DEADLOCKED FOR A MONTH

Radical Difference Between Great Britain and Russia Regarding Details of the Plan for Paying the Indemnity—Governments and Not the Ministers Are Held Responsible for the Prevailing Condition.

Peking, July 17.—The ministers of the powers now freely admit that the prospect for a conclusion of negotiations is growing darker. The situation is most serious as the deadlock has continued for more than a month. The meeting arranged for the day was postponed because it was apparent that the proceedings would be fruitless. It was at the meeting of July 11 that the ministers reached something in the nature of an agreement as to indemnity, but almost immediately a radical difference developed between Great Britain and Russia as to the details of the plan of payment. All the ministers were in accord with the scheme early in June, subject to the approval of their governments, but Great Britain disapproved of the arrangement on the ground that it did not adequately protect her commercial interests.

The neutral ministers assert that either Great Britain or Russia must make material concessions before an agreement is possible. Meanwhile the ministers of the powers are working upon comparatively unimportant details, such as improvements in navigation, but if the financial question were settled the negotiations could be closed in a day. Li Hung Chang keeps sending strenuous requests to the ministers of the powers to present a complete plan. He represents that China is willing to accept any reasonable terms and is chiefly anxious to know definitely what the powers require so that she may begin compliance with the terms.

The ministers regard newspaper accusations of procrastination on their part as exceedingly unjust. The governments and not the ministers are responsible, the ministers say for the deadlock.

DROUTH NOT BROKEN YET.

Rains in Kansas Have Given But Little Benefit.

Topeka, Kan., July 17.—While rain has fallen during the past 24 hours in various parts of Kansas, the drouth is not yet broken and little benefit has been experienced by the crops. The rains have been small local affairs and the only effect has been to cool the atmosphere and freshen vegetation to a certain extent.

The refreshing breeze from the South made the weather more bearable than any during the past month. Two places in the state report a temperature of 107, but the average has been about 99.

Reports of blighted crops continue to come in. A hopeful tone pervades most of the reports, however, and the determination is generally expressed to make the best of the situation.

GOOD CHANCE TO WIN.

Lipton Has Every Confidence in the New Shamrock.

London, July 17.—Sir Thomas Lipton, speaking to a representative of the Associated Press, said the results of the trial between the two Shamrocks in the Firth of Clyde had given him every confidence in the challenger and had undoubtedly stamped the challenger as the fastest yacht this side of the water. Sir Thomas said he thought Shamrock II was able to beat Shamrock I by 8 minutes in a 30-mile course, and he therefore believed she had a good prospect of success against her American competitor.

He also said the challenger had done all he had expected her to do. Shamrock II will sail for New York July 25.

CLEVELAND NEGROES ANGRY.

Accuse G. A. R. Committee of Drawing the Color Line.

Cleveland, O., July 17.—Cleveland negroes are angry over what they consider an attempt of the citizens general committee of the G. A. R. encampment to draw the color line.

The trouble arises because a separate committee of 12 representative negroes of this city have been appointed to entertain the visiting negro veterans during the annual encampment next September. The attempts to make the negro veterans a separate part of the encampment is resented. Those who have been named as such committee will refuse to serve.

Colored Ministers Meet.

Chicago, July 17.—Forty colored ministers from Illinois, Indiana, Tennesssee, Iowa, Wisconsin, Michigan and Minnesota, gathered at Quinn chapel, Wabash avenue and Twenty-fourth street, to attend the opening session of the Literary and Historical Congress of the Fourth Episcopal district of the African M. E. church.

Girls Drowned While Bathing.

La Crosse, Wis., July 17.—Elsie Hirtz, aged 14, and Fannie Griffin, aged 16, both of Hokah, Minn., were drowned while bathing in Root river falls. Their bodies were recovered.

AN EYE FOR AN EYE.

The Laws of the White Man and Indian in Collision.

Omaha, July 17.—Bird Head, a Ponca Indian buck, aged 86, and his squaw, aged 81, pleaded guilty in the federal court to manslaughter, committed on the reservation more than a year ago, and were released with suspended sentence.

Perry Laravie, also an Indian, had unintentionally slain their son Peter, and, following the tribal tradition, he handed his rifle over to old Bird Head, who shot him. Then the squaw cut him up with an axe. They had fulfilled the Indian law, but collided with the white man's code. This disposition of the case was making the punishment fit the crime, in the view of the court.

WITHOUT A PRECEDENT.

Peculiar Damage Case Against the City of Decatur, Ills.

Decatur, Ills., July 17.—The city of Decatur has compromised the $15,000 suit of Mrs. Anna Hatfield for $7,500, making about $14,000 that will be paid because a number of boys had a private telegraph line across a street. Mrs. Hatfield's son was maimed for life and James Lee's son was killed while playing in Lee's yard. A storm broke the wire and it fell partly in the yard and on a trolley wire. The courts held that the city allowed the wire, a dangerous element, to remain in the streets and was liable. The cases were of importance as being without a precedent.

HARRISON'S SUCCESSOR.

Difficult to Find Suitable Person of National Reputation.

Washington, July 17.—To maintain the political balance of the American representation on The Hague arbitration commission, the president regards it as essential to appoint a Republican to fill the vacancy created by the death of former President Harrison. Difficulty is being experienced in finding a suitable person of national reputation.

The supreme court will not be further drawn upon. The United States senate is barred as a field of selection and the indications are that the choice will fall upon some distinguished member of the state judiciary.

IMPORTANT VICTORIES.

Eight Firms Have Signed the Iron Molders' Scale.

Chicago, July 17.—Important victories were gained during the day by members of the Iron Molders' union, eight firms signing the agreement. One of the eight concerns was the American Tin Can company, known as the "tin can trust." Out of the 1,000 molders who struck Monday over 200 have already returned to work at the advance demanded when the strike was ordered.

Tri-State Drainage Association.

Fargo, N. D., July 17.—Little was done at the first day's meeting of the Tri-State drainage association on account of delay in arrival of many prominent men who have promised to come. Major Lacey of Iowa, chairman of the public lands committee in congress, was present and is interested in the work. Congressman Burke of South Dakota is here and takes an active interest in the plan. Senator Hansbrough of this state will be the permanent presiding officer.

Kidnapped Her Nephew.

Chicago, July 17.—Detective Keefe of Evanston has left for Northern Wisconsin, carrying a warrant for the arrest of Miss Florence Ely, said to have kidnapped Frank Rogers, her 13-year-old nephew. Miss Ely, who is 37 years of age, is said by James C. Rogers, the boy's father, to have an affection for the lad amounting to a mania. The Rogers family is well to do and live in Evanston. Mrs. Rogers has been prostrated since the disappearance of her son.

Rushing Live Stock to Market.

Kansas City, July 17.—Because of the drouth in the Southwest, which is raising farmers to rush their stock to market to save it, the record receipts here were again broken during the day, when 31,569 head of hogs were received at the local stock yards.

Chicago Brewers Idle.

Chicago, July 17.—Of the 52 breweries in Chicago six have agreed to the demands of the stationary firemen, who struck Monday, and were operated as usual during the day. The remainder were idle. The men demand $2 for an 8-hour day.

AMALGAMATED STRIKE

THE MEN CLAIM TO HAVE MADE THEIR PROMISES GOOD AS TO RESULTS.

EMPLOYERS SAY NOTHING

An Almost Complete Tieup of the

Three Companies in the District. But One Tin Mill and One Sheet Steel Mill Remain at Work—The Walkout of the Stationary Firemen Throws Thousands Out of Work.

Pittsburg, July 17.—The second strike day closes with the Amalgamated association in a satisfied mood and claiming to have made good every promise as to results. On the other hand, the manufacturers will not say a word concerning the strike and refuse to be quoted in any way. Repeated efforts to secure statements from officials have been met with the response that there was no change and nothing to be given out. The Amalgamated people say that nothing has been said to them of any plan for mediation or arbitration and they will continue to carry out their programme as originally announced.

The closing down of the Clark mill and of the Messen sheet steel mill are looked upon as telling victories and almost a complete tieup of the three companies in the district. But one tin mill, that at Monessen, and one sheet steel mill at Duncanville, remain at work. The following telegram has been received:

"The Wellsville rolling mill will be run and it will be run non-union. It will start in the morning. If it could not be run non-union it never would be run at all."

This statement was made by P. F. Smith of Pittsburg, district manager for the American Sheet Steel company. The announcement that the mill will be started non-union has given rise to no little speculation and uneasiness among the citizens. Wellsville is looked upon by both sides as an important point and developments are anxiously awaited by all.

Conferees' Statement Disputed.

According to the official statement made by the managers' conferees who met the Amalgamated association committee and failed to agree on a settlement, the managers did not refuse to grant to the Amalgamated association the right to organize their mills. According to the Amalgamated association officers all that was asked of the manufacturers was the right to organize the plants, and the reason for the strike therefore has not been clearly explained. President Shaffer, when seen on this statement, said: "No matter what they now say, the fact remains that they refused the Amalgamated association the right to organize their mills."

Asked if the statements on this point from Vice President Warner are correct, he said:

"If they are and the manufacturers are willing to allow the Amalgamated association to organize the mills—then the strike is off. We have never asked the manufacturers to compel the men to join our organization. We do not wish to coerce men to join the Amalgamated association. If the manufacturers will abrogate that part of the contract with non-union men in their mills, which keeps them from joining our organization or any other, remove the restrictions that are now on those men and allow us to work unrestrictedly among them and seek to get them to come to us, we will not ask anything further. Our demand was that they should allow us to do this. We asked them to sign the scale in order that the men might become union."

ORDER PROMPTLY OBEYED.

Nine Hundred Stationary Firemen Refuse to Go to Work.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., July 17.—The strike order of President Mullahy of the Stationary Firemen's association of Pennsylvania was promptly obeyed and 900 members of the organization in this section of the state refused to go to work. Most of the strikers are employed as firemen at the coal mines and their failure to report for duty caused nearly all the collieries in the northern anthracite region to suspend operations, throwing out of work, it is estimated, 30,000 men and boys. Some of the individual coal operators conceded the demands of their employees on condition that the short-hour day was not to hold if the men employed by the big companies did not get the same concessions. The big coal companies, however, refused to make any concessions.

The employers contended that the demands of the firemen were unreasonable, that they had received a 10 per cent advance at the time the wages of the miners were raised last fall and the demands now made upon the companies are equal to a 20 per cent advance.

The duration of the strike will depend upon the miners. If they stand by the striking firemen, the lockout may be a long one, but if the miners return to work as soon as the companies fill the places of the strikers, the strike will be lost to the firemen. Despite reports to the contrary, it is known that a difference of opinion exists between the miners and the firemen. The miners think the strike inopportune and that the firemen should have waited until April next before pressing their demands.

MANY DELEGATS PRESENT.

Transmississippi Congress Meets at Cripple Creek, Colo.

Cripple Creek, Colo., July 17.—The 12th annual meeting of the Transmississippi congress opened during the day at Odd Fellows hall with nearly 1,000 delegates in attendance. Many of the most prominent men in the Western states and territories, including half a dozen governors, twice that number of ex-governors and many senators and congressmen are among those present. Every state and territory in the West is represented.

The meeting was called to order at 10 o'clock by the president of the congress, Walter Gresham of Galveston, Tex. Governor J. B. Orman, of Colorado, and Mayors F. J. Crane of Cripple Creek and Nelson Franklin of Victor welcomed the delegates. Responses were made by Governor W. E. Stanley of Kansas and others.

Wants Her Integrity Guaranteed.

Berlin, July 17.—The Vossische Zeitung publishes a statement to the effect that the Spanish government meditates proposing to the powers that they guarantee the integrity of Spain on much the same way as they do that of Belgium. The plan seems to have originated in the fears entertained at Madrid regarding the Gibraltar question.

Accuse G. A. R. Committee of Drawing the Color Line.

Cleveland, O., July 17.—Cleveland negroes are angry over what they consider an attempt of the citizens general committee of the G. A. R. encampment to draw the color line.

The trouble arises because a separate committee of 12 representative negroes of this city have been appointed to entertain the visiting negro veterans during the annual encampment ext September. The attempts to make the negro veterans a separate part of the encampment is resented. Those who have been named as such committee will refuse to serve.

Colored Ministers Meet.

Chicago, July 17.—Forty colored ministers from Illinois, Indiana, Tennessee, Iowa, Wisconsin, Michigan and Minnesota, gathered at Quinn chapel, Wabash avenue and Twenty-fourth street, to attend the opening session of the Literary and Historical Congress of the Fourth Episcopal district of the African M. E. church.

The Laws of the White Man and Indian in Collision.

Omaha, July 17.—Bird Head, a Ponca Indian back, aged 86, and his squaw, aged 81, pleaded guilty in the federal court to manslaughter, committed on the reservation more than a year ago, and were released with suspended sentence.

Perry Laravie, also an Indian, had unintentionally slain their son Peter, and, following the tribal tradition, he handed his rifle over to old Bird Head, who shot him. Then the squaw cut him up with an axe. They had fulfilled the Indian law, but collided with the white man's code. This disposition of the case was making the punishment fit the crime, in the view of the court.

WITHOUT A PRECEDENT.

Peculiar Damage Case Against the City of Decatur, Ills.

Decatur, Ills., July 17.—The city of Decatur has compromised the $15,000 suit of Mrs. Anna Hatfield for $7,500, making about $14,000 that will be paid because a number of boys had a private telegraph line across a street. Mrs. Hatfield's son was maimed for life and James Lee's son was killed while playing in Lee's yard. A storm broke the wire and it fell partly in the yard and on a trolley wire. The courts held that the city allowed the wire, a dangerous element, to remain in the streets and was liable. The cases were of importance as being without a precedent.

HARRISON'S SUCCESSOR.

Difficult to Find Suitable Person of National Reputation.

Washington, July 17.—To maintain the political balance of the American representation on The Hague arbitration commission, the president regards it as essential to appoint a Republican to fill the vacancy created by the death of former President Harrison. Difficulty is being experienced in finding a suitable person of national reputation.

The supreme court will not be further drawn upon. The United States senate is barred as a field of selection and the indications are that the choice will fall upon some distinguished member of the state judiciary.

IMPORTANT VICTORIES.

Eight Firms Have Signed the Iron Molders' Scale.

Chicago, July 17.—Important victories were gained during the day by members of the Iron Molders' union, eight firms signing the agreement. One of the eight concerns was the American Tin Can company, known as the "tin can trust." One of the 1,000 molders who struck Monday over 300 have already returned to work at the advance demanded when the strike was ordered.

Tri-State Drainage Association.

Fargo, N. D., July 17.—Little was done at the first day's meeting of the Tri-State Drainage association on account of delay in arrival of many prominent men who have promised to come. Major Lacey of Iowa, chairman of the public lands committee in congress, was present and is interested in the work. Congressman Burke of South Dakota is here and takes an active interest in the plan. Senator Hansbrough of this state will be the permanent presiding officer.

Kidnapped Her Nephew.

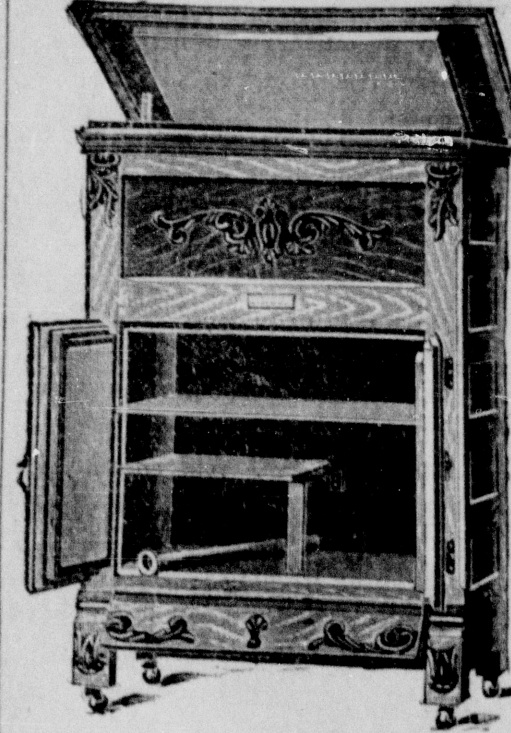

Chicago, July 17.—Detective Keefe of Evanston has left for Northern Wisconsin, carrying a warrant for the arrest of Miss Florence Ely, said to have kidnapped Frank Rogers, her 13-year-old nephew. Miss Ely, who is 37 years of age, is said by James C. Rogers, the boy's father, to have an affection for the lad amounting to a mania. The Rogers family is well to do and live in Evanston. Mrs. Rogers has been prostrated since the disappearance of her son.

Rushing Live Stock to Market.

Kansas City, July 17.—Because of the drouth in the Southwest, which is raising farmers to rush their stock to market to save it, the record receipts here were again broken during the day, when 31,599 head of hogs were received at the local stock yards.

Chicago Brewers Idle.

Chicago, July 17.—Of the 52 breweries in Chicago six have agreed to the demands of the stationary firemen, who struck Monday, and were operated as usual during the day. The remainder were idle. The men demand $2 for an 8-hour day.

AMALGAMATED STRIKE

THE MEN CLAIM TO HAVE MADE THEIR PROMISES GOOD AS TO RESULTS.

EMPLOYERS SAY NOTHING

An Almost Complete Tieup of the Three Companies in the District.

But One Tin Mill and One Sheet Steel Mill Remain at Work—The Walkout of the Stationary Firemen Throws Thousands Out of Work.

Pittsburg, July 17.—The second strike day closes with the Amalgamated association in a satisfied mood and claiming to have made good every promise as to results. On the other hand, the manufacturers will not say a word concerning the strike and refuse to be quoted in any way. Repeated efforts to secure statements from officials have been met with the response that there was no change and nothing to be given out. The Amalgamated people say that nothing has been said to them of any plan for mediation or arbitration and they will continue to carry out their programme as originally announced.

The closing down of the Clark mill and of the Messen sheet steel mill are looked upon as telling victories and almost a complete tieup of the three companies in the district. But one tin mill, that at Monessen, and one sheet steel mill at Duncanville, remain at work. The following telegram has been received:

"The Wellsville rolling mill will be run and it will be run non-union. It will start in the morning. If it could not be run non-union it never would be run at all."

This statement was made by P. F. Smith of Pittsburg, district manager for the American Sheet Steel company. The announcement that the mill will be started non-union has given rise to no little speculation and uneasiness among the citizens.

Wellsville is looked upon by both sides as an important point and developments are anxiously awaited by all.

Conferees' Statement Disputed.

According to the official statement made by the managers' conferees who met the Amalgamated association committee and failed to agree on a settlement, the managers did not refuse to grant to the Amalgamated association the right to organize their mills. According to the Amalgamated association officers all that was asked of the manufacturers was the right to organize the plants, and the reason for the strike therefore has not been clearly explained. President Shaffer, when seen on this statement, said: "No matter what they now say, the fact remains that they refused the Amalgamated association the right to organize their mills."

Asked if the statements on this point from Vice President Warner are correct, he said:

"If they are and the manufacturers are willing to allow the Amalgamated association to organize the mills—then the strike is off. We have never asked the manufacturers to compel the men to join our organization. We do not wish to coerce men to join the Amalgamated association. If the manufacturers will abrogate that part of the contract with non-union men in their mills, which keeps them from joining our organization or any other, remove the restrictions that are now on those men and allow us to work unrestrictedly among them and seek to get them to come to us, we will not ask anything further. Our demand was that they should allow us to do this. We asked them to sign the scale in order that the men might become union."

ORDER PROMPTLY OBEYED.

Nine Hundred Stationary Firemen Refuse to Go to Work.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., July 17.—The strike order of President Mullaly of the Stationary Firemen's association of Pennsylvania was promptly obeyed and 900 members of the organization in this section of the state refused to go to work. Most of the strikers are employed as firemen at the coal mines and their failure to report for duty caused nearly all the collieries in the northern anthracite region to suspend operations, throwing out of work, it is estimated, 30,000 men and boys. Some of the individual coal operators conceded the demands of their employees on condition that the short-hour day was not to hold if the men employed by the big companies did not get the same concessions. The big coal companies, however, refused to make any concessions.

The employers contended that the demands of the firemen were unreasonable, that they had received a 10 per cent advance at the time the wages of the miners were raised last fall and the demands now made upon the companies are equal to a 20 per cent advance.

The duration of the strike will depend upon the miners. If they stand by the striking firemen, the lockout may be a long one, but if the miners return to work as soon as the companies fill the places of the strikers, the strike will be lost to the firemen. Despite reports to the contrary, it is known that a difference of opinion exists between the miners and the firemen. The miners think the strike inopportune and that the firemen should have waited until April next before pressing their demands.

MANY DELEGATES PRESENT.

Transmississippi Congress Meets at Cripple Creek, Colo.

Cripple Creek, Colo., July 17.—The 12th annual meeting of the Transmississippi congress opened during the day at Odd Fellows hall with nearly 1,000 delegates in attendance. Many of the most prominent men in the Western states and territories, including half a dozen governors, twice that number of ex-governors and many senators and congressmen are among those present. Every state and territory in the West is represented.

The meeting was called to order at 10 o'clock by the president of the congress, Walter Gresham of Galveston, Tex. Governor J. B. Orman, of Colorado, and Mayors F. J. Crane of Cripple Creek and Nelson Franklin of Victor welcomed the delegates. Responses were made by Governor W. E. Stanley of Kansas and others.

LORD ROSEBERY WRITES A LETTER ON DIVISIONS IN THE LIBERAL PARTY.

SEES NO FAVORABLE ISSUE

It is a Source of Sorrow to Him to Find a Weak Government Confronted by a Weaker Opposition—Believes That the Present Crisis May Have Unlimited Effect Upon Great Britain's Future.

London, July 17.—Lord Rosebery has issued a manifesto on the divisions in the Liberal party. It is contained in a letter to the City Liberal club, which had invited him to deliver an address.

He disclaims any desire to re-enter politics, but speaks out "under the remarkable charter" agreed upon by Liberal members of the house of commons of "hearty and undisputed allegiance to the leader and complete liberty of action to dissent with regard to one vital question before the country."

The Liberal party can become a power, he says, when it shall have made up its mind on the "imperial questions which are at this moment embodied in the war." After asserting that "the whole empire has rallied to the war," he discussed the attitude of the Liberal party.

"What is the attitude of the Liberal party?" he asks. "Neutrality, and an open mind? Now I contend that this is an impossible attitude and spells impotence. No party can exist on such conditions." He declares that the differences would not cease to operate when the war is over, "because statesmen, who disassociate themselves from a nation in a great national question, such as the war in which we all strive to suffer together, disassociate themselves for much longer than they think."

He considers that the severance is a "sincere fundamental and incurable antagonism of principle with regard to the empire at large and our consequent policy." As there is this "honest and irreconcilable difference of opinion on questions of the first importance," he can see no favorable issue.

Lord Rosebery concludes with a gloomy touch. "It is a matter of sorrow and anxiety," he says, "to see a weak government confronted by a weaker opposition at a juncture of foreign hostility and international competition which needs all the vigilance, power and ability at our command."

He believes that Great Britain is at a crisis which may have unlimited effects upon its future.

Lord Rosebery's pronouncement is regarded by The Daily Telegraph as severing his last connection with a hopeless opposition. The Daily Chronicle says:

"It is destined to have a profound effect upon the contemplated formation of a national Liberal party, numerous materials for which are scattered within each."

The Daily Chronicle meaningfully asks if Lord Rosebery will take his part towards realizing the desired end.

The Daily News regards Lord Rosebery as "standing outside the vineyard and throwing stones at the workers." Going on to analyze the letter, the paper defines it as a "deliberate and mischievous effort to prevent reunion."

The Conservative papers generally commend the letter.

RECEIVED AT WASHINGTON.

Porto Rican Free Trade Resolution in Secretary Hay's Possession.

Washington, July 17.—Secretary Hay has received by mail an official report from Governor Allen of Porto Rico, enclosing the resolution adopted by the Porto Rican legislature providing for free trade between the United States and Porto Rico after July 25, next. Promptly upon Mr. Allen's arrival in this country a proclamation will be framed to give effect to this resolution. It is expected that the document will be purely formal in terms, simply reciting the proper section of the Foraker act and declaring free trade.

Two Soldiers Recaptured.

Manila, July 17.—Lieutenant Patrick A. Connolly of the Twenty-first regiment, who was sent with 20 men to recapture the Americans taken prisoners at Mindoro, has made his first landing on the island. He attacked the town of Calapan and a score of natives were killed and the town was partly burned before the place surrendered. Private Kidder of the Thirty-eighth regiment and Private Blake of the Twentieth were recaptured.

Indian Territory Crops Saved.

Muskogee, I. T., July 17.—A severe hail storm three miles north of Muskogee killed some stock and completely destroyed crops for a considerable distance over a stretch a mile wide. Heavy rain fell over the Creek and Cherokee Nations, generally saving crops.

Bombay Cavalry Will Remain.

Tien Tsin, July 17.—The orders for the departure of the Bombay cavalry have been countermanded and the strength of the British troops remaining here will be increased by 1,000 men.

AGAINST PICKETING ONLY.

Judge Will Not Enjoin Either Violence or Boycotting.

Cincinnati, July 17.—Judge C. D. Clark of the United States district court, during the hearing of the motion to dissolve the temporary injunction issued against the striking machinists, indicated very plainly to counsel for the defense what his opinion would be on two points involved. He said that for picketing an injunction would be granted, but that acts of violence and even boycotting were not to be met by injunction. He described picketing as intercepting men while going to and from the factory, anywhere—even miles away—by one man or by more than one, an interference with ingress and egress of workmen. But violence, he added, is not to be remedied by injunction in this court. It is found to belong to the criminal jurisdiction of the state courts. He announced that the decision of the case would rest on the point whether or not it had been shown there had been picketing.

Machinists' Strike in Milwaukee Virtually at an End.

Milwaukee, July 17.—Unable to hold out any longer on account of the scarcity of funds, 50 machinists voluntarily have gone back to work at the works of the Allis-Chalmers company, thus virtually putting an end to the strike in Milwaukee. This was practically the first break of any importance in the ranks of the machinists, but it is admitted it is almost hopeless to hold the men out in Milwaukee any longer. A general return to work of the men in every shop in the city is expected. The Allis company expects every one of its former employees will be back soon and all will be reinstated in their old places as far as possible. The end of the strike here is regarded with satisfaction by the employers as a body, and there is no disposition to deal harshly with the men. It is said the shops which have been crippled for so long will be running full handed by the first of next week.

FATAL COINCIDENTS.

Elevator Boys at New York and Chicago Instantly Killed.

New York, July 17.—Robert Moore, 19 years of age, was killed while at work on an elevator of the American Can company, at Whitestock, L. I. The elevator was a new invention and was opened at the factory off the first time during the day. After running a few times, it refused to work, and in trying to repair the break the boy fell to the bottom of the shaft and was killed instantly. The American Can company has a factory in Chicago and an elevator of the same kind was placed in the factory there and operated for the first time during the day. Almost at the same time that Moore met his death word was received from the factory in Chicago that the elevator boy was killed there.

PENSION LIST GROWING.

Increased Last Year to the Extent of 4,305 Names.

Washington, July 17.—Reports have been received by Commissioner Evans of the pension bureau from all the pension agents of the country showing the entire pensions business transacted for the fiscal year ended June 30, last. The showing thus made, compared with 1900, is as follows: The appropriations for the two years was the same, $144,000,000 for each year. The expenditure for 1901 was $128,531,494, an excess over 1900 of $15,468,506.

During the year the pension roll was increased to the extent of 4,305 names, making a total of 997,834. The deaths among pensioners numbered 38,082 in 1901, or 257 more than in 1900.

Run Over by Fire Engine.

St. Paul, July 17.—August Chemidlin, 74 years old, was run over by Engine No. 4 of the local fire department at Seventh and Wacouta streets. The wheels passed over his right leg and pelvis and inflicted injuries from which he died 20 minutes later. The horses attached to the engine became unmanageable and ran on to the sidewalk, causing the fatal accident.

Count Tolstoi Seriously Ill.

London, July 17.—M. Tschlerkoff, who is Count Tolstoi's representative in Great Britain, has received a telegram asserting that the famous Russian is dangerously ill with fever accompanied with great weakness and that his state is very serious. The dispatch was received from Tula, European Russia, where Count Tolstoi is understood to be.

SITUATION IS SERIOUS

PROSPECT FOR A CONCLUSION OF NEGOTIATIONS AT PEACE KING GLOOMY.

DEADLOCKED FOR A MONTH

Radical Difference Between Great Britain and Russia Regarding Details of the Plan for Paying the Indemnity—Governments and Not the Ministers Are Held Responsible for the Prevailing Condition.

Peking, July 17.—The ministers of the powers now freely admit that the prospect for a conclusion of negotiations is growing darker. The situation is most serious as the deadlock has continued for more than a month. The meeting arranged for the day was postponed because it was apparent that the proceedings would be fruitless. It was at the meeting of July 11 that the ministers reached something in the nature of an agreement as to indemnity, but almost immediately a radical difference developed between Great Britain and Russia as to the details of the plan of payment. All the ministers were in accord with the scheme early in June, subject to the approval of their governments, but Great Britain disapproved of the arrangement on the ground that it did not adequately protect her commercial interests.

The neutral ministers assert that either Great Britain or Russia must make material concessions before an agreement is possible. Meanwhile the ministers of the powers are working upon comparatively unimportant details, such as improvements in navigation, but if the financial question were settled the negotiations could be closed in a day. Li Hung Chang keeps sending strenuous requests to the ministers of the powers to present a complete plan. He represents that China is willing to accept any reasonable terms and is chiefly anxious to know definitely what the powers require so that she may begin compliance with the terms.

The ministers regard newspaper accusations of procrastination on their part as exceedingly unjust. The governments and not the ministers are responsible, the ministers say for the deadlock.

DROUTH NOT BROKEN YET.

Rains in Kansas Have Given But Little Benefit.

Topeka, Kan., July 17.—While rain has fallen during the past 24 hours in various parts of Kansas, the drouth is not yet broken and little benefit has been experienced by the crops. The rains have been small local affairs and the only effect has been to cool the atmosphere and freshen vegetation to a certain extent.

The refreshing breeze from the South made the weather more bearable than any during the past month. Two places in the state report a temperature of 107, but the average has been about 99.

Reports of blighted crops continue to come in. A hopeful tone pervades most of the reports, however, and the determination is generally expressed to make the best of the situation.

GOOD CHANCE TO WIN.

Lipton Has Every Confidence in the New Shamrock.

London, July 17.—Sir Thomas Lipton, speaking to a representative of the Associated Press, said the results of the trial between the two Shamrocks in the Fifth of Clyde had given him every confidence in the challenger and had undoubtedly stamped the challenger as the fastest yacht this side of the water. Sir Thomas said he thought Shamrock II was able to beat Shamrock I by 8 minutes in a 20-mile course, and he therefore believed she had a good prospect of success against her American competitor.

He also said the challenger had done all he had expected her to do. Shamrock II will sail for New York July 25.

Residents in the town of Rich Prairie, Morrison county, about 20 miles from Little Falls, are much excited over a discovery of what appears to be iron ore of good quality on a farm in the town.

Postoffice Examiner Meyers was in the city Saturday looking up the matter of the Morrill town road that was obstructed by John Begordis. It seems that the road was used by the mail carrier of Buckman town.—Little Falls Transcript.

The state railroad commission have been in Duluth to hear the business men of the West end in the support of their contention that the Northern Pacific should be forced to restore the station at Twentieth avenue west, which was abandoned in May last.

Earl Reid, traveling passenger agent of the Duluth, South Shore & Atlantic, is home after a two weeks' trip through western Minnesota and North Dakota. Mr. Reid says the Northwest will harvest a record crop this year, and that there will be no possibility of a failure. There has been too much rain for wheat on low ground but the crop will be a boomer and the farmers are happy. Oats and barley are in splendid condition, but flax is backward. The hay crop will be immense. Mr. Reid says harvesting of wheat will begin about Aug. 10, and that what all the farmers are worrying about now is where they are going to get the necessary help. Labor is very scarce in the agricultural regions.—Duluth Evening Herald.

A logging train coming down with a load of logs was wrecked just about 100 feet above the section house at Pine River Tuesday evening at about nine o'clock. Thirteen cars were jammed up in a heap, most of them being smashed up badly, and logs were scattered all over the surrounding right away. The section crew and wrecking train were immediately called out and about a hundred men worked all night and until about nine o'clock the next morning, clearing the way and replacing the broken rails and ties. No one was injured but it is safe to say that had it occurred one hundred feet down the track it would have completely smashed the section house and undoubtedly proved fatal to the occupants.—Pine Tree Blaze.

Mirror's God Speed.

The following sentiments are expressed by the Prison Mirror on the release of the Youngers:

"It is with great pleasure that we announce the parole of James and Cole Younger from this institution, after twenty-five years of penal servitude. During their long incarceration, the Younger brothers have won the respect and admiration of officials and inmates alike, and there is not a man within these walls who will fail to wish them God speed upon their delivery, and peace and plenty for the balance of their days."

KNAPP FOUND GUILTY BY JURY.

He Was Indicted on a Charge of Grand Larceny in the Second Degree.

THE STODDARDS SENTENCED.

The Case of the State vs. John Murphy Now Being Tried in District Court.

The case of the State vs. James Knapp was taken up yesterday afternoon. Knapp is the man who was arrested last March shortly after the March term of court, charged with holding up and robbing one Henry Wise and taking from his person one gold watch. Attorney Crane appeared for the defendant and Attorney S. F. Alderman for the plaintiff. The testimony was all adduced and this morning the arguments to the jury were made.

The jury retired shortly after 10 o'clock and were out about two hours when they returned a verdict of guilty of grand larceny in the second degree. Knapp is probably due to draw a term in the pen at Stillwater.

Yesterday afternoon Frank and Mary Stoddard were brought before Judge McClenahan and they asked permission to change their plea from that of not guilty to guilty on the charge of grand larceny in the second degree. It will be remembered these are the people who rode off on two wheels belonging to A. L. Hoffman. The court imposed a fine of $100 each and in default of the same to serve a sentence in the county jail 90 days each. They will, in all probability, serve the sentence.

This morning the case of the State vs. John Murphy, charged with grand larceny in the second degree, the particular crime being the holding up of William Kinney, of Backus, was taken up. Attorney Warner appears for the defendant in this case.

Charley Maghan was thrown from a horse while cultivating corn, and his arm was broken near the shoulder.

It looks as though there would be more butternuts this year than the squirrels would take, giving the children a chance to get some.

Mrs. F. D. Day, of the firm of Day & Bagley, jewelers and opticians, of Duluth, accompanied by her son Cecil and two young lady friends, called on Mrs. G. A. Hunt Friday.

Some thirty tourists of Duluth chartered the Wasserzieher yacht and came down to the picnic grounds on Lookout point Saturday. Mrs. G. A. Hunt prepared for them baked fish, chowder, cottage cheese and cream. Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert, who arranged this outing, reported that the party voted it a red letter day in picnicing.

Neighborhood Gossip.

Col. Westerman, of St. Cloud, thinks Stearns county leads all others with good crops.

Mankato is in the midst of its great Elks Carnival and everything goes this week with full blast.

The Interstate Chautauqua at Ortonville for the season of 1901 closed with the cantata "Queen Esther" as the last entertainment.

Rev. Forbes, of Duluth, visited Foley this week with a view of organizing a Methodist congregation at that place and erecting a church building.—St. Cloud Times.

Residents in the town of Rich Prairie, Morrison county, about 20 miles from Little Falls, are much excited over a discovery of what appears to be iron ore of good quality on a farm in the town.

Postoffice Examiner Meyers was in the city Saturday looking up the matter of the Morrill town road that was obstructed by John Begordis. It seems that the road was used by the mail carrier of Buckman town.—Little Falls Transcript.

The state railroad commission have been in Duluth to hear the business men of the West end in the support of their contention that the Northern Pacific should be forced to restore the station at Twentieth avenue west, which was abandoned in May last.

Earl Reid, traveling passenger agent of the Duluth, South Shore & Atlantic, is home after a two weeks' trip through western Minnesota and North Dakota. Mr. Reid says the Northwest will harvest a record crop this year, and that there will be no possibility of a failure. There has been too much rain for wheat on low ground but the crop will be a boomer and the farmers are happy. Oats and barley are in splendid condition, but flax is backward. The hay crop will be immense. Mr. Reid says harvesting of wheat will begin about Aug. 10, and that what all the farmers are worrying about now is where they are going to get the necessary help. Labor is very scarce in the agricultural regions.—Duluth Evening Herald.

A logging train coming down with a load of logs was wrecked just about 100 feet above the section house at Pine River Tuesday evening at about nine o'clock. Thirteen cars were jammed up in a heap, most of them being smashed up badly, and logs were scattered all over the surrounding right away. The section crew and wrecking train were immediately called out and about a hundred men worked all night and until about nine o'clock the next morning, clearing the way and replacing the broken rails and ties. No one was injured but it is safe to say that had it occurred one hundred feet down the track it would have completely smashed the section house and undoubtedly proved fatal to the occupants.—Pine Tree Blaze.

Mirror's God Speed.

The following sentiments are expressed by the Prison Mirror on the release of the Youngers:

"It is with great pleasure that we announce the parole of James and Cole Younger from this institution, after twenty-five years of penal servitude. During their long incarceration, the Younger brothers have won the respect and admiration of officials and inmates alike, and there is not a man within these walls who will fail to wish them God speed upon their delivery, and peace and plenty for the balance of their days."

Earl Reid, general traveling passenger agent for the Duluth, South Shore & Atlantic, was a guest in the city this morning. He is hustling up business for his road in connection with the Pan-American Exposition at Buffalo.

"Red" Anderson, a gambler of Bemidji, went up to Fosston to take in the races and besides, playing the game pretty strong at the track biked back home with a married woman. With the aid of the sheriff the couple was located and they will have a hearing.

John Selba was arrested this morning by Chief Nelson charged with violating the sanitary ordinance. He had a hearing before Judge Maastor and was fined $10. Selba has been notified on several occasion about the unsanitary condition of his premises but he seemed to pay no heed to the warnings of the officers. He paid his fine.

William Bibber, one of Bonness & Howe's foreman was in the city last evening and his face was about as bad looking a disfigurement as has been seen for sometime. It seems that he got into an altercation with a young man by the name of Hardy at the mill and the latter landed his fists at that point that is synonymous with the name of Sullivan, and after he had his man down evidently got on top and spiked his face and head until it was one complete batter.

EIGHTY-FOUR NOW THE NUMBER.

There is a Good Increase in Attendance at the Summer School This Week.

LANHART-GABIOU.

Two Well-Known Young People of the City Married at Father Lynch's Residence This Morning.

This morning Mr. David Lanhart and Miss Catherine Gabiou, both of this city were united in the holy bonds of matrimony, Rev. Father Lynch officiating. The wedding occurred at Father Lynch's residence in the presence of a few friends.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Gabiou of this city and is very well known. The groom is a young blacksmith who has lived in the city for a long time and has a large circle of friends here. Mr. and Mrs. Lanhart left this noon for Ashland, Wis., where they will make their home in the future. They have the best wishes of a large number of friends here.

PIONEER RESIDENT DEAD.

Mrs. Francis Wolvert Dies This Afternoon At The Home of Her Daughter.

Mrs. A. Armstrong.

Mrs. Francis Wolvert, wife of Joseph Wolvert, died this afternoon at 1:30 o'clock at the home of her daughter, Mrs. A. Armstrong, at the age of 63 years, after suffering for years with tumor of the stomach.

Deceased has been a resident of the city for twenty years. She is survived by her husband, two sons and two daughters. They are: Frank and Peter Wolvert; Mrs. A. Armstrong and Mrs. Frank Bacon.

The funeral services will be held on Friday morning at 9 o'clock at St. Francis Catholic church.

KNAPP FOUND GUILTY BY JURY.

He Was Indicted on a Charge of Grand Larceny in the Second Degree.

THE STODDARDS SENTENCED.

The Case of the State vs. John Murphy Now Being Tried in District Court.

The case of the State vs. James Knapp was taken up yesterday afternoon. Knapp is the man who was arrested last March shortly after the March term of court, charged with holding up and robbing one Henry Wise and taking from his person one gold watch. Attorney Crane appeared for the defendant and Attorney S. F. Alderman for the plaintiff. The testimony was all adduced and this morning the arguments to the jury were made.

The jury retired shortly after 10 o'clock and were out about two hours when they returned a verdict of guilty of grand larceny in the second degree. Knapp is probably due to draw a term in the pen at Stillwater.

Yesterday afternoon Frank and Mary Stoddard were brought before Judge McClenahan and they asked permission to change their plea from that of not guilty to guilty on the charge of grand larceny in the second degree. It will be remembered these are the people who rode off on two wheels belonging to A. L. Hoffman. The court imposed a fine of $100 each and in default of the same to serve a sentence in the county jail 90 days each. They will, in all probability, serve the sentence.

This morning the case of the State vs. John Murphy, charged with grand larceny in the second degree, the particular crime being the holding up of William Kinney, of Backus, was taken up. Attorney Warner appears for the defendant in this case.

OAK LAWN GEMS.

Elder Mead is at Madella holding a series of tent meetings.

PLANNING FOR A HUMMER.

Important Meeting of the Firemen
of the City Held Last Night.

THE 1903 FIREMEN'S TOURNAMENT

Committees Appointed and Arrangements Made For Some Paying Events.

There was a very important meeting of the firemen of the city last evening at the Central Hose house. The meeting was called for the purpose of discussing ways and means which would bring in the largest amount of money to go to a fund to be used in making the firemen's tournament to be held in this city in 1903 one of the best ever held in the state.

There was a very good attendance of the members of all the companies and several important steps were taken in the right direction. It was decided to give a dance on the evening of Labor Day and the boys expect to sell a large number of tickets for this event as a starter.

It was decided to meet once every three months from the present time until the tournament to discuss plans etc. During the interims between meetings matters will be left in the hands of a committee composed of one member from each company and the chief of the fire department.

Chief Bennett presided at the meeting last night and there was a marked unanimity of all the members of the department. The committee which will have power to act and which will make all arrangements is composed of Chief A. H. Bennett and the following from the different companies:

Hose Co. No. 1—James Buly
" " " 2—L. H. Stallman
" " " 3—W. W. Winters
" " " 4—Peter Peterson

Hook & Ladder Co.—C. H. Paine
It was also decided to have some ball games in the near future between teams composed of the members of the different companies. The captains of the different companies were authorized to make the arrangements.

The tournament of 1903 will be a success if all it requires is hustle. The boys are anxious to make a good showing. All firemen are in one accord and in unity there is strength.

CURBSTONE CHAT.

Secretary Wilhelm: The Brainerd band is making arrangements with us to go to Walker. We will have a big crowd, I think, from present indications.

City Clerk Low: This morning I received word from the secretary of the St. Cloud lodge; B. P. O. E., that they had engaged a sleeper at St. Paul and in view of the fact that not as many as had at first intended to take the trip are going to Milwaukee, he stated that any who were going from here could get accommodations.

R. D. King: I think it is wrong for the city council to expect us to fix those crossings in view of the fact that we have never asked a cent from the city for the construction of the bicycle paths. In the larger cities like Minneapolis, the conditions are exactly the same as they are here at the present time and there is no kick coming.

W. A. Fleming: There was a mistake in the comments on the Grant case. The point decided by the court, and on which it was disposed of, was not the one raised by Mr. Crowell at all. Mr. Crowell claimed that the city was not liable because the county built the bridge and its approaches. I refused to discuss such a proposition and claimed that the only question was whether the city was bound to fence the embankment. The supreme court has held that it is the duty of the city to protect such places if they are dangerous, and I claimed it was a question of fact for the jury. The court thought otherwise. We shall see later on what the supreme court says about it. We are confident that Judge Baxter was wrong.

WANT "SIXTEENERS" TO PAY.

Old Indian Chief Gets on his War Paint At
Cass Lake And Wants To Know
Who is Who.

On Saturday afternoon there appeared at the Endion hotel at Cass Lake Chief Song-ge-ge-Shig, accompanied by about twelve of the Bear Islanders that took part in the uprising of October, 1898. Chief Song-ge-ge-Shig was arrayed in all the fancy toggery that he could pull out of a flour sack. He wore two very heavily beaded pouches around his neck. In his hair was a circle, with several feathers stuck into it. On his arms were two things that looked like fruit tins, with the bottoms knocked out. He evidently endeavored to create the impression that if arrayed in gorgeous costume his presence would command more attention and respect. He requested audience with Col. Hartley. As soon as he and his companions were seated he produced several letters from the Chippewa commission, giving him a good character, and one stating that he was the chief of the Cass Lake Indians, and son of Mon-zo-Moe. Around his neck he wore a silver medallion, about the size of a saucer, with a picture of Ex-President Pierce engraved on it.

Through an interpreter, Mr. Song-ge-ge-Shig requested to be informed by what right the whites occupied the lands of his tribe.

The answers did not seem to suit the chief or his followers. They seemed inclined to be annoyed, and finally Mr. Song-ge-ge-Shig commenced to disrobe and fill his flour sack with his wardrobe, and then followed a consultation among the Bear Islanders, which was to the effect that if some white people had paid for some of the land all ought, and that they would insist that the sixteeners either pay for their lands or get off. Song-ge-ge-Shig had an ancient document with him, of which the following is a copy:

"At the earnest, and as it is believed, reasonable request of the Indians residing upon Cass Lake, we promise to ask the government of the United States to furnish, at the earliest practicable time, a portable saw and planing mill for the use of said Indians.

"Also to have sufficient pine reserved for the use of said reservation and also 160 acres set aside as a government reservation for such buildings as the government may see fit to build thereon, or permit to be built by others, for necessary schools and other purposes.

"A blacksmith, with tools and a supply of iron, is a necessity that cannot be questioned.

FIFTH WEDDING ANNIVERSARY.

Celebrated By Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Beach
Last Evening at Their Home
On North Side.

There was a very pretty gathering at the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Beach at the corner of Juniper and Third streets north last evening, the event being the fifth wedding anniversary of this popular and well known couple. The home was tastefully decorated with cut flowers and potted plants for the occasion and the thirty-five or more guests, notwithstanding the heat, enjoyed a most pleasant evening.

The diversion of the evening was progressive euchre but during the evening several musical selections were given. Mrs. Nellie Hazen was the winner of the ladies' head prize and Henry Linneman won the gents' head prize. Mrs. C. D. Johnson won the ladies' foot trophy and Edward McKay took this honor for the gentlemen.

This being the wooden wedding of this popular couple a large collection of presents were brought in, some of them being extremely beautiful and handsome. About the most beautiful was an elegant hall settee. Mr. and Mrs. Leech have the best wishes of a large circle of friends in this city and all wish them many happy returns of the event of last night.

Annual Meeting of Elks at Milwaukee, Wis.

For the above occasion the N. P. Ry. Co. will sell tickets July 21, 22 or 23d to Milwaukee and return for one first class fare for the round trip, limited to return until July 28th. Limit may be extended at Milwaukee until August 10th by payment of 50c and depositing ticket with joint agent at Milwaukee before July 27th.

County Board of Equalization
Completes Its Labor on Personal Property Lists.

BRAINERD LUMBER CO.'S CASE.

City Board Reduced the Amount
But County Board Raised It Again.

The county board of equalization, composed of Commissioners Gardner, Kienow, Paine, Erickson and Maghan and Auditor Mahlum, has completed its work on the personal property lists and nearly everything in the county has been raised in valuation.

The most important item which affects the city of Brainerd, is the assessment of the Brainerd Lumber company. The assessment on manufacturing material and manufactured articles last year was about $93,000. The assessor this year assessed the same property $143,000. The first of the week, when the city board of equalization met, they reduced the amount to $125,000, but the county board thought the figures of the assessor were about right and again raised the assessment to the original amount $143,000.

The action of the city board of equalization, it is understood, was taken in view of the fact that the Brainerd Lumber company is considered a great institution for the city, and in order not to offend them in anyway reduced the assessment for fear they might some day move away on account of being overtaxed.

"His Opinion."

EDITOR DAILY DISPATCH:

I observe in your issue of Tuesday that the "Rev. James Clulow" has taken occasion to spit out some of his venom in public over his own signature, which is certainly an improvement on his usual style of attacking public men. His favorite method of slandering better men than himself covertly, over fictitious or borrowed signatures, is well known, and the people of the city generally will be pleased to note in this communication over his own signature an indication of some little claim to manhood, the influence no doubt of his environment since he did us the honor to take up his residence among us.

Now to those who have known me here for the past fifteen or twenty years it is perhaps not necessary for me to say that it is not of the slightest consequence to me what Rev. Clulow, or any of the Clulow ilk, says or thinks of me, personally or officially. The people of Brainerd decided between the "reverend gentleman" and myself several months ago, and they decided very emphatically, as will be remembered. And I am satisfied that they care no more now for his opinion than I do.

But when a man wearing the livery of heaven, and professing to be a follower and disciple of "the meek and lowly Nazarine" makes such gross misrepresentations in order to smirch the character of one against whom he has a personal grudge, it is time to show up his hypocrisy and vindictiveness. Because the reverend gentleman is very sore at the editor of The Tribune for forcing the settlement of a long standing printing bill against him by means of a collection agency, he viciously attacks the mayor of the city.

Now, Mr. Clulow is either densely ignorant of the matters he writes about so glibly or he is a wilful, malicious liar. He lies when he says "prize fights have taken place in the city limits." A scientific sparring exhibition for points, such as often takes place in the Y. M. C. A. gymnasiums of the country, was all that Mr. Clulow needed to conjure up a "prize fight." I might add that a license of $10, as provided by the city ordinance, was paid for this exhibition. And by the way, Brother Clulow has violated the license ordinance every time he has given an entertainment, but strange to say, he does not complain because the mayor does not enforce it in his case.

He lies when he attempts to convey the impression that the mayor is persecuting the Salvation Army. Upon assuming office the mayor gave strict orders to the police that the Salvation Army people were to be protected from insult from any source. The police were enjoined to prevent them from being annoyed, or their meetings disturbed in any way. Several arrests have been made for disturbing their meetings. The captain and other officers have called at the mayor's office and cordially thanked him for the interest he took in the Army and his kindness to them.

PLANNING FOR A HUMMER.

Important Meeting of the Firemen
of the City Held Last Night.

THE 1903 FIREMENS TOURNAMENT

Committees Appointed and Arrangements Made For Some Paying Events.

There was a very important meeting of the firemen of the city last evening at the Central Hose house.
The meeting was called for the purpose of discussing ways and means which would bring in the largest amount of money to go to a fund to be used in making the firemen's tournament to be held in this city in 1903 one of the best ever held in the state.

There was a very good attendance
of the members of all the companies and several important steps were taken in the right direction. It was decided to give a dance on the evening of Labor Day and the boys expect to sell a large number of tickets
for this event as a starter.

It was decided to meet once every three months from the present time until the tournament to discuss plans
etc. During the interims between meetings matters will be left in the hands of a committee composed of one member from each company and the chief of the fire department.

Chief Bennett presided at the meeting last night and there was a marked unanimity of all the members of the department. The committee which will have power to act and which will make all arrangements is composed of Chief A. H. Bennett and the following from the different companies:

Hose Co. No. 1—James Buly
" " " 2—L. H. Stallman
" " " 3—W. W. Winters
" " " 4—Peter Peterson

Hook & Ladder Co.—C. H. Paine
It was also decided to have some ball games in the near future between teams composed of the members of the different companies. The captains of the different companies were
authorized to make the arrangements.

The tournament of 1903 will be a success if all it requires is hush-tle. The boys are anxious to make a good showing. All firemen are in one accord and in unity there is strength.

CURBSTONE CHAT.

Secretary Wilhelm: The Brainerd
band is making arrangements with us to go to Walker. We will have a big crowd, I think, from present
indications.

City Clerk Low: This morning I
received word from the secretary of
the St. Cloud lodge B. P. O. E.,
that they had engaged a sleeper at
St. Paul and in view of the fact that
not as many as had at first intended
to take the trip are going to Milwaukee, he stated that any who were going from here could get accommodations.

R. D. King: I think it is wrong for the city council to expect us to fix
those crossings in view of the fact that we have never asked a cent from
the city for the construction of the bicycle paths. In the larger cities
like Minneapolis, the conditions are exactly the same as they are here at
the present time and there is no kick
coming.

W. A. Fleming: There was a mistake in the comments on the Grant
case. The point decided by the court, and on which it was disposed
of, was not the one raised by Mr.
Crowell at all. Mr. Crowell claimed that the city was not liable because
the county built the bridge and its approaches. I refused to discuss
such a proposition and claimed that
the only question was whether the
city was bound to fence the embankment. The supreme court has held
that it is the duty of the city to protect such places if they are dangerous, and I claimed it was a question
of fact for the jury. The court thought otherwise. We shall see
later on what the supreme court says
about it. We are confident that Judge Baxter was wrong.

tism is caused by uric acid in the

Old Indian Chief Gets on his War Paint At
Cass Lake And Wants To Know
Who is Who.

On Saturday afternoon there appeared at the Endion hotel at Cass
Lake Chief Song-ge-ge-Shig, accompanied by about twelve of the Bear
Islanders that took part in the uprising of October, 1898. Chief Song-ge-ge-Shig was arrayed in all the
fancy toggery that he could pull out
of a flour sack. He wore two very heavily beaded pouches around his neck. In his hair was a circle, with several feathers stuck into it. On his arms were two things that looked
like fruit tins, with the bottoms
knocked out. He evidently endeavored to create the impression that if arrayed in gorgeous costume his
presence would command more attention and respect. He requested audience with Col. Hartley. As soon
as he and his companions were seated he produced several letters from
the Chippewa commission, giving
him a good character, and one stating that he was the chief of the Cass
Lake Indians, and son of Mon-zo-
Moe. Around his neck he wore a silver medallion, about the size of a
saucer, with a picture of Ex-President Pierce engraved on it.

Through an interpreter, Mr. Song-
ge-ge-Shig requested to be informed
by what right the whites occupied
the lands of his tribe.

The answers did not seem to suit
the chief or his followers. They seemed inclined to be annoyed, and
finally Mr. Song-ge-ge-Shig commenced to disrobe and fill his flour
sack with his wardrobe, and then
followed a consultation among the Bear Islanders, which was to the effect that if some white people had
paid for some of the land all ought,
and that they would insist that the sixteeners either pay for their lands
or get off. Song-ge-ge-Shig had an ancient document with him, of which
the following is a copy:

"At the earnest, and as it is believed, reasonable request of the Indians residing upon Cass Lake, we
promise to ask the government of the United States to furnish, at the earliest practicable time, a portable
saw and planing mill for the use of
said Indians.

"Also to have sufficient pine reserved for the use of said reservation
and also 160 acres set aside as a government reservation for such
buildings as the government may see
fit to build thereon, or permit to be
built by others, for necessary schools
and other purposes.

FIFTH WEDDING ANNIVERSARY.

Last Evening at Their Home
On North Side.

There was a very pretty gathering
at the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. D.
Beach at the corner of Juniper and
Third streets north last evening, the
event being the fifth wedding anniversary of this popular and well known couple. The home was tastily decorated with cut flowers and potted plants for the occasion and
the thirty-five or more guests, notwithstanding the heat, enjoyed a most pleasant evening.

The diversion of the evening was progressive euchre but during the
evening several musical selections
were given. Mrs. Nellie Hazen was
the winner of the ladies' head prize
and Henry Linneman won the gents'
head prize. Mrs. C. D. Johnson won
the ladies' foot trophy and Edward McKay took this honor for the gentlemen.

This being the wooden wedding of
this popular couple a large collection
of presents were brought in, some of
them being extremely beautiful and handsome. About the most beautiful was an elegant hall settee. Mr.
and Mrs. Leech have the best wishes
of a large circle of friends in this city
and all wish them many happy returns of the event of last night.

BRAINERD LUMBER CO.'S CASE.

City Board Reduced the Amount
But County Board Raised It Again.

The county board of equalization,
composed of Commissioners Gardner,
Kienow, Paine, Erickson and
Maghan and Auditor Mahlum, has
completed its work on the personal property lists and nearly everything
in the county has been raised in valuation.

The most important item which
affects the city of Brainerd, is the
assessment of the Brainerd Lumber
company. The assessment on manufacturing material and manufactured
articles last year was about $93,000.
The assessor this year assessed the same property $143,000. The first of the week, when the city board of equalization met, they reduced the
amount to $125,000, but the county
board thought the figures of the assessor were about right and again
raised the assessment to the original amount $143,000.

The action of the city board of equalization, it is understood, was taken in view of the fact that the Brainerd Lumber company is considered a great institution for the city, and in order not to offend them
in anyway reduced the assessment
for fear they might some day move
away on account of being overtaxed.

It was also decided to have some

teams composed of the members of
the different companies. The captains of the different companies were
authorized to make the arrangements.

CURBSTONE CHAT.

Secretary Wilhelm: The Brainerd
band is making arrangements with
us to go to Walker. We will have
a big crowd, I think, from present
indications.

City Clerk Low: This morning I
received word from the secretary of
the St. Cloud lodge, B. P. O. E.,
that they had engaged a sleeper at
St. Paul and in view of the fact that
not as many as had at first intended
to take the trip are going to Milwaukee, he stated that any who were going from here could get accommodations.

R. D. King: I think it is wrong for
the city council to expect us to fix
those crossings in view of the fact
that we have never asked a cent from
the city for the construction of the
bicycle paths. In the larger cities
like Minneapolis, the conditions are
exactly the same as they are here at
the present time and there is no kick
coming.

W. A. Fleming: There was a mis-
take in the comments on the Grant
case. The point decided by the court, and on which it was disposed
of, was not the one raised by Mr.
Crowell at all. Mr. Crowell claimed
that the city was not liable because
the county built the bridge and its
approaches. I refused to discuss
such a proposition and claimed that
the only question was whether the
city was bound to fence the embankment. The supreme court has held
that it is the duty of the city to protect such places if they are dangerous, and I claimed it was a question
of fact for the jury. The court
thought otherwise. We shall see
later on what the supreme court says
about it. We are confident that Judge Baxter was wrong.

WANT "SIXTEENERS" TO PAY.

Old Indian Chief Gets on his War Paint At
Cass Lake And Wants To Know
Who is Who.

On Saturday afternoon there appeared at the Edson hotel at Cass
Lake Chief Song-ge-ge-Shig, accompanied by about twelve of the Bear
Islanders that took part in the uprising of October, 1898. Chief Song-
ge-ge-Shig was arrayed in all the
fancy toggery that he could pull out
of a flour sack. He wore two very
heavily beaded pouches around his neck. In his hair was a circle, with several feathers stuck into it. On his arms were two things that looked
like fruit tins, with the bottoms
knocked out. He evidently endeavored to create the impression that if arrayed in gorgeous costume his
presence would command more attention and respect. He requested
audience with Col. Hartley. As soon
as he and his companions were seated he produced several letters from
the Chippewa commission, giving
him a good character, and one stating that he was the chief of the Cass
Lake Indians, and son of Mon-zo-
Moe. Around his neck he wore a
silver medallion, about the size of a
saucer, with a picture of Ex-President Pierce engraved on it.

Through an interpreter, Mr. Song-
ge-ge-Shig requested to be informed
by what right the whites occupied
the lands of his tribe.

The answers did not seem to suit
the chief or his followers. They seemed inclined to be annoyed, and
finally Mr. Song-ge-ge-Shig commenced to disrobe and fill his flour
sack with his wardrobe, and then
followed a consultation among the Bear Islanders, which was to the effect that if some white people had
paid for some of the land all ought,
and that they should insist that the
sixteeners either pay for their lands
or get off. Song-ge-ge-Shig had an ancient document with him, of which
the following is a copy:

"At the earnest, and as it is believed, reasonable request of the Indians residing upon Cass Lake, we
promise to ask the government of the United States to furnish, at the
earliest practicable time, a portable
saw and planing mill for the use of
said Indians.

"Also to have sufficient pine reserved for the use of said reservation
and also 160 acres set aside as a
government reservation for such
buildings as the government may see
fit to build thereon, or permit to be
built by others, for necessary schools
and other purposes.

"A blacksmith, with tools and a supply of iron, is a necessity that cannot be questioned.

FIFTH WEDDING ANNIVERSARY.

Celebrated By Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Beach
Last Evening at Their Home
On North Side.

There was a very pretty gathering
at the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. D.
Beach at the corner of Juniper and
Third streets north last evening, the
event being the fifth wedding anniversary of this popular and well known couple. The home was tastefully decorated with cut flowers and potted plants for the occasion and
the thirty-five or more guests, notwithstanding the heat, enjoyed a most pleasant evening.

The diversion of the evening was
progressive euchre but during the
evening several musical selections
were given. Mrs. Nellie Hazen was
the winner of the ladies' head prize
and Henry Linneman won the gents'
head prize. Mrs. C. D. Johnson won
the ladies' foot trophy and Edward McKay took this honor for the gentle-
men.

This being the wooden wedding of
this popular couple a large collection
of presents were brought in, some of
them being extremely beautiful and
handsome. About the most beautiful was an elegant hall settee. Mr.
and Mrs. Leech have the best wishes
of a large circle of friends in this city
and all wish them many happy returns of the event of last night.

County Board of Equalization Completes Its Labor on Personal Property Lists.

BRAINERD LUMBER CO.'S CASE.

City Board Reduced the Amount
But County Board Rais-
ed It Again.

The county board of equalization,
composed of Commissioners Gardner,
Kienow, Paine, Erickson and
Maghan and Auditor Mahlum, has
completed its work on the personal
property lists and nearly everything
in the county has been raised in
valuation.

The most important item which
affects the city of Brainerd, is the
assessment of the Brainerd Lumber
company. The assessment on manufacturing material and manufactured
articles last year was about $93,000.
The assessor this year assessed the
same property $143,000. The first of the week, when the city board of
equalization met, they reduced the
amount to $125,000, but the county
board thought the figures of the assessor were about right and again
raised the assessment to the original amount $143,000.

The action of the city board of
equalization, it is understood, was
taken in view of the fact that the Brainerd Lumber company is considered a great institution for the
city, and in order not to offend them
in anyway reduced the assessment
for fear they might some day move
away on account of being overtaxed.

"His Opinion."

EDITOR DAILY DISPATCH:

I observe in your issue of Tuesday that the "Rev. James Clulow" has taken occasion to spit out some of his venom in public over his own signature, which is certainly an improvement on his usual style of attacking public men. His favorite method of slandering better men than himself covertly, over fictitious or borrowed signatures, is well known, and the people of the city generally will be pleased to note in this communication over his own signature an indication of some little claim to manhood, the influence no doubt of his environment since he did us the honor to take up his residence among us.

Now to those who have known me here for the past fifteen or twenty years it is perhaps not necessary for me to say that it is not of the slightest consequence to me what Rev. Clulow, or any of the Clulow ilk, says or thinks of me, personally or officially.
The people of Brainerd decided between the "reverend gentleman" and myself several months ago, and they decided very emphatically, as will be remembered. And I am satisfied that they care no more now for his opinion than I do.

But when a man wearing the livery of heaven, and professing to be a follower and disciple of "the meek and lowly Nazarine" makes such gross misrepresentations in order to smirch the character of one against whom he has a personal grudge, it is time to show up his hypocrisy and vindictiveness. Because the reverend gentleman is very sore at the editor of The Tribune for forcing the settlement of a long standing printing bill against him by means of a collection agency, he viciously attacks the mayor of the city.

Now, Mr. Clulow is either densely ignorant of the matters he writes about so glibly or he is a wilful, malicious liar. He lies when he says
"prize fights have taken place in the city limits." A scientific sparring exhibition for points, such as often takes place in the Y. M. C. A. gymnasiums of the country, was all that Mr. Clu-low needed to conjure up a "prize fight." I might add that a license of $10, as provided by the city ordinance, was paid for this exhibition.
And by the way, Brother Clulow has violated the license ordinance every time he has given an entertainment,
but strange to say, he does not complain because the mayor does not enforce it in his case.

He lies when he attempts to convey the impression that the mayor is persecuting the Salvation Army.

Upon assuming office the mayor gave strict orders to the police that the Salvation Army people were to be protected from insult from any source.
The police were enjoined to prevent them from being annoyed, or their meetings disturbed in any way. Several arrests have been made for disturbance of their meetings. The captain and other officers have called at the mayor's office and cordially thanked him for the interest he took in the Army and his kindness to them.

PAINE & MCGINN,

Blue Front Market, Sixth Street.

As the summer advanced and the crowd increased on the streets, these meetings blocked up the most frequent thoroughfares so that it became impossible for the police to keep an open passageway for pedestrians on the sidewalks. The Army people were therefore courteously requested to hold their meetings on another corner, only a block away, where they could have more room and would not interfere with travel so much. This reasonable request was readily complied with.

And this is the sum and substance
how "the mayor has commenced his operations on the Salvation Army."

It is such wild and extravagant statements as this from narrow-minded venomous small men in clerical garb, that weaken the influence of the clergy and excite the profound contempt of the general public. Did you ever notice that it is always the Clulows, transient residents who pay little or no taxes and whose interest in the community is measured by the salaries they receive, who assail and vilify public officials and have naught but evil to say of the city? Like the "calamity bowlers" these narrow people are positively unhappy when they are not slandering and defaming the community in which they temporarily reside.

CONSPIRACY CHARGED.

Official Call of the "Bryan Democrats" of Ohio Issued.

Cleveland, O., July 17.—The official call of the "Bryan Democrats" of Ohio was issued during the day. It is addressed to "the Bryan Democrats of Ohio," and charges that the Ohio convention repudiated the two last Democratic national platforms, and that the action of the convention was the result of a conspiracy "mapped out at the headquarters in New York."

The address concludes as follows: "If the action of this convention stands unrebuked, then it must be understood that the Democratic party, as such, has repudiated the principles enunciated in the Kansas City platform, and ratified and approved of the course pursued by the Republican party on the money question. If the Democratic party abandon the principles laid down in the platforms of 1896 and 1900 then it may as well close its political career, for there is little else of importance to fight for."

A HOME FOR SOLDIERS.

Plans of Structure to Be Erected Near Johnson City, Tenn.

BUILDINGS WILL COST $1,000,000.

Site of New Institution Is in a Beautiful Mountain Region—Great Triumphant Arch and Gateway Will Be Built at Entrance of the Grounds. Other Interesting Features.

As a result of a final competition between six architects plans for the National Home for Disabled Volunteer Soldiers, to be erected near Johnson City, Tenn., have been accepted from Joseph H. Freedlander, one of the younger members of the profession in New York city. The announcement was made the other day, and after consultation with General John T. Richards of Maine, the superintendent of construction, Mr. Freedlander will proceed with the working drawings. Ground will be broken at once, and it is the firm belief that the institution will be ready for occupancy by New Year's day, 1904.

The object is to provide a home for 2,500 volunteers both of the Union and Confederate armies of the civil war and of all other wars in which the United States has been engaged, and the plans as already prepared call for the expenditure of about $1,000,000, says the New York Times. Incidentally it is believed that the institution will bring the beautiful mountain region in which it will stand into prominence both as a winter and summer resort. The site is about three hours' ride on horseback over the mountains from Asheville, N. C., where Biltmore, the palatial seat of George Washington Vanderbilt, is situated, though, owing to the circuitous route necessitated by the hills, it takes about two hours longer to make the journey by train.

The site embraces a tract 1¼ miles long by three-quarters of a mile wide. It is fallow farm land, but nestled in thick forest, and through a ravine at one end runs a mountain stream which will furnish abundant water power at all seasons for electric lighting and other purposes of the institution. The tract embraces about 35 buildings, which will be built of brick and trimmed with the beautiful limestone of the surrounding country. The forests, too, will provide the necessary timber.

The principal buildings will be in the style of the French Renaissance. At the entrance of the grounds a great triumphal arch and gateway flanked by two porters' lodges will be erected. Through this a broad avenue will lead to the parade ground, with its flag-staff and battery, and just within the gate, so as to be ready of access to the outside public having business with the institution, will be the administration building. At one end of the parade ground will stand Memorial hall, a great auditorium, with its galleries, which will seat the entire number of occupants of the home. At the other end of the ground will be spacious conservatories, and behind these again will be a canteen built and conducted on the plans which found most favor in the regular army before canteens were abolished and the soldiers driven to seek recreation outside of post limits.

At the side of the parade ground facing the main avenue will be the mess hall, which will seat 1,250 at a time, and behind that will be the 12 two-story barrack buildings, set in a double row in the form of a semi-ellipse, with broad radial paths leading from each to the mess hall. To the right of this settlement will be the spacious hospital, where the inmates of the home naturally will spend much of their time. The chapel will be convenient to the barracks.

Groves and gardens already have been planted, and the rest of the tract will be laid out as a beautiful park, with extensive driveways. In one corner will be a beautiful cemetery, where the old soldiers will take their final rest. The Southern railroad will erect a station before the main entrance to the grounds and will lay a spur on which supplies can be taken directly to the storehouses. A trolley road is also to be built to the gate from Johnson City, and it is expected that the visitors will number about 300,000 annually.

DISCOVERIES IN PATAGONIA.

Traces of the Giant Sloth—New Puma and a New Lake.

The expedition to Patagonia in search of the giant sloth has returned without having discovered it, says the London Daily Express. Hesketh Prichard, chief of the expedition, during nearly a year spent on the eastern side of the Cordillera found some remains of the giant sloth bearing an extraordinary appearance of freshness. He discovered a species of puma new to science and a new lake in which were many icebergs.

Large zoological, ornithological, geological and botanical collections were brought back.

The Cuban Watermelon With Us.

The first fruits of expansion, in the literal sense of the word, are Cuban watermelons, says the Washington Star. Weighing about three pounds, 15 inches long and 10 inches in diameter, of a rich red brown color, the Cuban watermelon, which has for the first time made its appearance in the markets of Washington, creates a month watering enthusiasm until the dealer tells you as an afterthought, "They have to be fried before eating." Nevertheless, there is a demand among epicureans in Washington for this fruit vegetable product of the fair isle, and dealers say the Cuban watermelon, the only novelty of the season in the edible line, has come to stay.

WARTIME HUMORIST.

Notable Career of Orpheus C. Kerr. His Fondness of Animals.

The late Robert Henry Newell of Brooklyn, who with Petroleum V. Nasby, Artemus Ward, Josh Billings and others made up the company of humorists who relieved and softened with their jests some of the grimness of the civil war period, was an older appearing man than he really was. He was 65 years old. As he picked his way along the streets, stopping to make a minute examination of every bit of waste paper that he found in his way and sometimes talking to himself rather excitedly, he seemed nearer 90 than 60, says the New York Sun. His delight in his later days was to visit some of the restaurants along Court street, where he had appreciative friends, and tell them of his experiences as a newspaper correspondent during the civil war and as one of those who followed President Grant on his trip around the world. He was very fond of animals, and in all the places where he was a frequent visitor the cats and the dogs made for him as soon as he entered.

Mr. Newell was born in New York city. He was literary editor of the New York Mercury from 1858 to 1862. From 1862 until 1869 he was a war correspondent and a contributor to northern periodicals of his famous Washington letters signed Orpheus C. Kerr (office seeker). He accompanied Grant on his famous tour around the world and subsequently made a similar tour on his own account. Among his best known productions are "Palace Beautiful and Other Poems," "Versatilities," "Avery Glibben," "Cloven Foot," an American adaptation of Dickens' "Mystery of Edwin Drood," entitled the "Mystery of Mr. E. Drood," and the "Walking Doll." Among his poems "The Irish Sentinel's Lament" is one of those which will be longest remembered. Its first stanza is:

I'm standin' in the mud, Biddy,
With not a spalpeen near,
And silence, spacheless as the grave,
Is the only sound I hear.

From 1869 until 1874 Mr. Newell was an editorial writer for The World of New York city. He was also the editor of Hearth and Home, an illustrated weekly.

MAINE GRANITE FOR EUROPE

An Experiment Which May Revolutionize Our Granite Industry.

An innovation in the granite industry of Maine, the importance of which can hardly be estimated and which marks an era in the granite trade all over the country, will be introduced at Rockland, Me., shortly. A cargo of granite will be shipped in August from the quarries on Crotch and Moose islands, Stonington and Hurricane islands, to Liverpool, says the New York Tribune. This will be the first cargo of American granite ever shipped to any European port and will be laid down in Liverpool at $1 a ton, or $1.25 a ton less than Scotch granite can be supplied.

The shipment is to be made under the direction of John L. Goss and W. S. White, who have been studying the European granite and building stone conditions for some time past. England has become alarmed over the scarcity of building stone, the Scotland quarries being almost denuded and able only to supply small dimensions quarried at a great depth. English builders have lately been importing stone from Sweden and Russia at considerable cost. The first cargo will consist of nearly 3,000 tons and will be loaded direct at tide water. On the success of the enterprise depends a great deal—in fact, if satisfactory it means the revolutionizing of the United States granite trade.

The vast and yet uncovered fields of granite in Maine and New England tide water places offer innumerable advantages and inexhaustible sources of supply of granite for the world at large.

LEPERS IN UNITED STATES.

Nearly Nine Hundred Cases Found by Investigating Surgeons.

Drs. J. H. White, George Tully Vaughn and M. J. Roseau, three surgeons of the marine hospital service appointed about two years ago under authority of an act of congress approved March 2, 1890, to make a full investigation of the subject of leprosy in the United States, have practically completed their work and within a short time will be ready to submit a report to the house and senate when those two bodies shall have reconvened.

This report will set forth some interesting and to many some rather startling facts and information concerning the prevalence of the disease of leprosy in this country, for it will show that the ailment prevails here to an extent not generally appreciated, says a Washington dispatch to the Philadelphia Times. It will in all likelihood show that there are nearly 900 cases in the United States. Furthermore, as stated the other day on most reliable authority, it will say that there is at least one case, if not more, in the city of Washington, while in other large cities there are numerous cases known to and under the surveillance of the medical profession.

Francis Parkman Memorial.

The memorial to Francis Parkman for the park system of Brookline, Mass., which now includes the former site of his house, is to be a gateway or door formed of the monoliths that will span one of the paths where his home used to stand, says the New York Times. The two uprights, with superincumbent stone, are roughly hammered from the rock. On one face the uprights will have figures in relief by Daniel C. French, carried out in the spirit of the gateway, rudely and in an archaic style. On the same side of the crosspiece will be a relief portrait of Parkman. One of the side figures will represent the Indian tribes and the other side the white settlers.

NEW HOMES FOR MANY.

Chances Presented by Opening of Oklahoma Lands.

NEARLY TWO MILLION ACRES OPEN

Soil Is Rich, and Pure Water Abounds—Where the Region Lies. Facts About Its Mountains, Valleys and the Products to Which the Soil Is Best Adapted.

Two troops of United States cavalry will prevent a raid of sooties into the Indian lands to be drawn by lottery for settlement by whites at the opening of the reservation on Aug. 6, says a dispatch from Guthrie, O. T., to the St. Louis Post-Dispatch. There is not likely to be any serious trouble. The new lands are a part of Oklahoma territory and are rich in soil, pure water and timber.

The Wichita reservation is 36 miles east and west by 30 miles north and south. It contains, according to the latest government survey, 743,610 acres of land. It is bounded on the north by the Canadian river, which separates it from Blaine and Canadian counties, O. T.; on the west by Washita county, O. T.; on the east by the Chickasaw reservation and on the south by the Comanches, Kiowas and Apaches lies immediately south of the Wichita reservation and is bounded on the east by the Chickasaw reservation, on the west by Greer county, O. T., and on the south by the Red river, which forms the southern boundary of Oklahoma and separates this territory from Texas. It is 70 miles east and west by 63 north and south and contains 2,968,803 acres.

Allotments to the Indians, pasture, school and military reservations, the Wichita mountains and small reservations for various other purposes reduce the amount of land available for homestead purposes to approximately one-half of the total acreage. There is therefore left to be distributed to homesteaders under the provisions of the president's proclamation approximately 1,856,000, or 11,600 homesteads of 160 acres each. Each homesteader must be either a voter or the head of a family. Some of the homesteads will unquestionably be refused or abandoned. If 9,000 are taken and retained, it will be in excess of the anticipation of those most conversant with conditions. Estimating the number of homesteaders who will make the new territory a permanent home at 8,500, the agricultural population can be safely estimated at five times this number, or 42,500.

The only statement regarding the nature and character of the soil worth consideration is one based upon actual tests of what has been raised from it. One would suppose from the nature of the soil that apples would prove a profitable crop. But they do not. Experiments have shown that apple culture is a waste of time. On the other hand, the finest peaches in the world can be raised in the new country. Not only does the fruit have a fine flavor, but the peaches grow to an unusual size, and the trees bear abundantly with comparatively little cultivation. The effort to raise pears has been a failure, but grapes have been cultivated with wonderful success. As it is with the fruits, so it is with the cereals. The actual tests show continued success with some crops, continued failures with others.

Out of 2,000,000 acres available for homesteaders perhaps 1,000,000 will make desirable farms. If the land be taken in its entirety, it will not favorably compare with the land in old Oklahoma north of it. But there are thousands of as good farms in the new country as in any other part of Oklahoma. Forty thousand acres in and near the Keeche hills, near the Chickasaw reservation and south about ten miles from the Washita river, is worthless for agricultural purposes. Much of the highland in the Wichita reservation is adapted only for grazing land. The Wichita mountains, which should be retained by the government as a wood and park reserve, renders useless for agricultural purposes not less than 200,000 acres.

With the exception of the district known as the Wichita mountain range, which covers an area of 20 by 30 miles almost in the center of the Kiowa-Comanche country; the Keeche hills, immediately south of the Washita river, near the Chickasaw nation, and the small area included in the Raton mountain district, in the northwest corner of the reservation, all the land in the new country is adapted either for agriculture or grazing lands. Of the Wichita mountain country it is sufficient to say in discussing the country from the homesteaders' standpoint that the tops of the peaks are barren of all vegetation, that the forests of post oak extend almost half the distance to the top and that between the mountain ranges are some beautiful parks. But the mountains serve a valuable agricultural purpose. Nowhere in the west can a better watered country be found. The streams which traverse the country in all directions have their sources in these mountains and provide a never failing water supply. One can scarcely go a distance of a township in any part of the Comanche reservation without crossing a stream of clear water. Deep pools and ripples alternate, solving the problem of a water supply for both the cattle country and the domestic uses of agricultural people.

CONSPIRACY CHARGED.
Official Call of the "Bryan Democrats" of Ohio Issued.
Cleveland, O., July 17.—The official call of the "Bryan Democrats" of Ohio was issued during the day. It is addressed to "the Bryan Democrats of Ohio," and charges that the Ohio convention repudiated the two last Democratic national platforms, and that the action of the convention was the result of a conspiracy "mapped out at the headquarters in New York."
The address concludes as follows: "If the action of this convention stands unrebuked, then it must be understood that the Democratic party, as such, has repudiated the principles enunciated in the Kansas City platform, and ratified and approved of the course pursued by the Republican party on the money question. If the Democratic party abandon the principles laid down in the platforms of 1896 and 1900 then it may as well close its political career, for there is little else of importance to fight for."

A HOME FOR SOLDIERS.
Plans of Structure to Be Erected Near Johnson City, Tenn.
BUILDINGS WILL COST $1,000,000.
Site of New Institution Is in a Beautiful Mountain Region—Great Triumphant Arch and Gateway Will Be Built at Entrance of the Grounds. Other Interesting Features.

As a result of a final competition between six architects plans for the National Home For Disabled Volunteer Soldiers, to be erected near Johnson City, Tenn., have been accepted from Joseph H. Freedlander, one of the younger members of the profession in New York city. The announcement was made the other day, and after consultation with General John T. Richards of Maine, the superintendent of construction, Mr. Freedlander will proceed with the working drawings. Ground will be broken at once, and it is the firm belief that the institution will be ready for occupancy by New Year's day, 1904.

The object is to provide a home for 2,500 volunteers both of the Union and Confederate armies of the civil war and of all other wars in which the United States has been engaged, and the plans as already prepared call for the expenditure of about $1,000,000, says the New York Times. Incidentally it is believed that the institution will bring the beautiful mountain region in which it will stand into prominence both as a winter and summer resort. The site is about three hours' ride on horseback over the mountains from Asheville, N. C., where Biltmore, the palatial seat of George Washington Vanderbilt, is situated, though, owing to the circuitous route necessitated by the hills, it takes about two hours longer to make the journey by train.

The site embraces a tract 1 1/4 miles long by three-quarters of a mile wide. It is fallow farm land, but nestles in thick forest, and through a ravine at one end runs a mountain stream which will furnish abundant water power at all seasons for electric lighting and other purposes of the institution. The contract embraces about 35 buildings, which will be built of brick and trimmed with the beautiful limestone of the surrounding country. The forests, too, will provide the necessary timber.

The principal buildings will be in the style of the French Renaissance. At the entrance of the grounds a great triumphal arch and gateway flanked by two porters' lodges will be erected. Through this a broad avenue will lead to the parade ground, with its flag-staff and battery, and just within the gate, so as to be ready of access to the outside public having business with the institution, will be the administration building. At one end of the parade ground will stand Memorial hall, a great auditorium, with its galleries, which will seat the entire number of occupants of the home. At the other end of the ground will be spacious conservatories, and behind these again will be a canteen built and conducted on the plans which found most favor in the regular army before canteens were abolished and the soldiers driven to seek recreation outside of post limits.

At the side of the parade ground facing the main avenue will be the mess hall, which will seat 1,250 at a time, and behind that will be the 12 two-story barrack buildings, set in a double row in the form of a semi-ellipse, with broad radial paths leading from each to the mess hall. To the right of this settlement will be the spacious hospital, where the inmates of the home naturally will spend much of their time. The chapel will be convenient to the barracks.

Groves and gardens already have been planted, and the rest of the tract will be laid out as a beautiful park, with extensive driveways. In one corner will be a beautiful cemetery, where the old soldiers will take their final rest. The Southern railroad will erect a station before the main entrance to the grounds and will lay a spur on which supplies can be taken directly to the storehouses. A trolley road is also to be built to the gate from Johnson City, and it is expected that the visitors will number about 300,000 annually.

LEPERS IN UNITED STATES.

Nearly Nine Hundred Cases Found by Investigating Surgeons.

Drs. J. H. White, George Tully Vaughn and M. J. Rosenau, three surgeons of the marine hospital service appointed about two years ago under authority of an act of congress approved March 2, 1890, to make a full investigation of the subject of leprosy in the United States, have practically completed their work and within a short time will be ready to submit a report to the house and senate when those two bodies shall have reconvened.

This report will set forth some interesting and to many some rather startling facts and information concerning the prevalence of the disease of leprosy in this country, for it will show that the ailment prevails here to an extent not generally appreciated, says a Washington dispatch to the Philadelphia Times. It will in all likelihood show that there are nearly 900 cases in the United States. Furthermore, as stated the other day on most reliable authority, it will say that there is at least one case, if not more, in the city of Washington, while in other large cities there are numerous cases known to and under the surveillance of the medical profession.

Francis Parkman Memorial.

The memorial to Francis Parkman for the park system of Brookline, Mass., which now includes the former site of his house, is to be a gateway or door formed of the monoliths that will span one of the paths where his home used to stand, says the New York Times. The two uprights, with superincumbent stone, are roughly hammered from the rock. On one face the uprights will have figures in relief by Daniel C. French, carried out in the spirit of the gateway, rudely and in an archaic style. On the same side of the crosspiece will be a relief portrait of Parkman. One of the side figures will represent the Indian tribes and the other side the white settlers.

NEW HOMES FOR MANY.

Soil is Rich, and Pure Water Abounds—Where the Region Lies. Facts About Its Mountains, Valleys and the Products to Which the Soil is Best Adapted.

Two troops of United States cavalry will prevent a raid of soomers into the Indian lands to be drawn by lottery for settlement by whites at the opening of the reservation on Aug. 6, says a dispatch from Guthrie, O. T., to the St. Louis Post-Dispatch. There is not likely to be any serious trouble. The new lands are a part of Oklahoma territory and are rich in soil, pure water and timber.

The Wichita reservation is 36 miles east and west by 30 miles north and south. It contains, according to the latest government survey, 743,610 acres of land. It is bounded on the north by the Canadian river, which separates it from Blaine and Canadian counties, O. T.; on the west by Washita county, O. T.; on the east by the Chickasaw reservation and on the south by the Washita river. The reservation of the Comanches, Kiowas and Apaches lies immediately south of the Wichita reservation and is bounded on the east by the Chickasaw reservation, on the west by Greer county, O. T., and on the south by the Red river, which forms the southern boundary of Oklahoma and separates this territory from Texas. It is 70 miles east and west by 63 north and south and contains 2,968,803 acres.

Allotments to the Indians, pasture, school and military reservations, the Wichita mountains and small reservations for various other purposes reduce the amount of land available for homestead purposes to approximately one-half of the total acreage. There is therefore left to be distributed to homesteaders under the provisions of the president's proclamation approximately 1,856,000, or 11,000 homesteads of 160 acres each. Each homesteader must be either a voter or the head of a family. Some of the homesteads will unquestionably be refused or abandoned. If 9,000 are taken and retained, it will be in excess of the anticipation of those most conversant with conditions. Estimating the number of homesteaders who will make the new territory a permanent home at 8,500, the agricultural population can be safely estimated at five times this number, or 42,500.

The only statement regarding the nature and character of the soil worth consideration is one based upon actual tests of what has been raised from it. One would suppose from the nature of the soil that apples would prove a profitable crop. But they do not. Experiments have shown that apple culture is a waste of time. On the other hand, the finest peaches in the world can be raised in the new country. Not only does the fruit have a fine flavor, but the peaches grow to an unusual size, and the trees bear abundantly with comparatively little cultivation. The effort to raise pears has been a failure, but grapes have been cultivated with wonderful success. As it is with the fruits, so it is with the cereals. The actual tests show continued success with some crops, continued failures with others.

Out of 2,000,000 acres available for homesteaders perhaps 1,000,000 will make desirable farms. If the land be taken in its entirety, it will not favorably compare with the land in old Oklahoma north of it. But there are thousands of as good farms in the new country as in any other part of Oklahoma. Forty thousand acres in and near the Keeche hills, near the Chickasaw reservation and south about ten miles from the Washita river, is worthless for agricultural purposes. Much of the highland in the Wichita reservation is adapted only for grazing land. The Wichita mountains, which should be retained by the government as a wood and park reserve, renders useless for agricultural purposes not less than 200,000 acres.

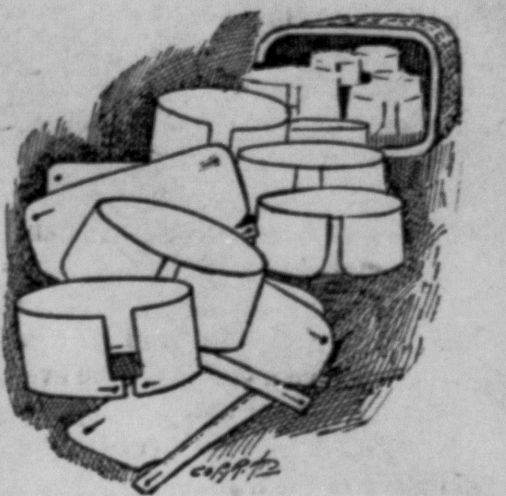

With the exception of the district known as the Wichita mountain range, which covers an area of 20 by 30 miles almost in the center of the Kiowa-Comanche country; the Keeche hills, immediately south of the Washita river, near the Chickasaw nation, and the small area included in the Kaitay mountain district, in the northwest corner of the reservation, all the land in the new country is adapted either for agriculture or grazing lands. Of the Wichita mountain country it is sufficient to say in discussing the country from the homesteaders' standpoint that the tops of the peaks are barren of all vegetation, that the forests of post oak extend almost half the distance to the top and that between the mountain ranges are some beautiful parks. But the mountains serve a valuable agricultural purpose. Nowhere in the west can a better watered country be found. The streams which traverse the country in all directions have their sources in these mountains and provide a never failing water supply. One can scarcely go a distance of a township in any part of the Comanche reservation without crossing a stream of clear water. Deep pools and ripples alternate, solving the problem of a water supply for both the cattle country and the domestic uses of agricultural people.

Cost No Preventive.

The sultan of Morocco has two new cameras that cost $15,000. Yet he will probably have as many bad exposures, says the New York Press, as if they cost $9.98.
